

CHEF BRADLEY COHEN

MEET THE CHEF

- Bradley graduated with Bachelor of Economics degree from the University of Maryland.
- After college, he began working in the hospitality industry where he developed a passion for cooking.
- Over the last 14 years, Bradley has worked with some of the best chefs in New Jersey, learning classic techniques and finding his own voice on the plate, creating delicious food along the way.
- Though he has a fine dining background, his favorite food to cook and enjoy is simple, seasonal American Cuisine.
- In his spare time, Bradley enjoys brewing beer at home and watching the New York Yankees. He is also interested traveling to different countries to learn about different cultures and their food.
- On the weekends, Bradley enjoys being outside, riding his mountain bike on local trails as well as finding bike trails all over New Jersey.
- Bradley looks forward to delivering delicious, fresh, and unique plates for all his guests. Be sure to say hello when you visit us in the cafe!
